

C"am1"21

Mornings can be lousy,
When they start at 12:01 A.M.
In the middle of studying,
And run right through till noon.
But mornings can be pink as dawn,
If you've had some sleep
To smooth away the wrinkles in your mind.
Mornings are alarms screeching,
Sounding the end of sack time;
Mornings are gathering up books,
Getting dressed and stepping out.

Mornings are sloppy soft SAGA eggs.
They are also prayer times-
"Lord please work in this" times.
Mornings are classes, and rushing to 5th period;
Checking for a letter, and sometimes getting one.
Mornings are hoping your stomach doesn't growl,
And that it won't rain.
Mornings are "get-going" times.

ADMINISTRATORS BRING PROGRESS

President LeShana

Dr. David C. LeShana, after serving George Fox College for three years, was offlclally Inaugurated as the ninth president at the annual fall convocation.

Harold Ankeny, Dean of Students

Frank Cole, Dean of Administration

Arthur Roberts, Dean of Faculty

Bruerd, Director of Public Relations.

rey Campbell, RegIstrar

The administrative council meets every Monday morning to discuss plans and policies which have far-reaching effects on every phase of college development. Once a month, Cyril Carr met with this group to represent the student body.

Allen Hadley, Director of Admisslons

Idon NewkIrk, Director of FInanAld

Gene Hockett, Dlrector of Alumni

Maurice Chandler, Dlrector of Development

DIVISION I EDUCATION

Robert Gilmore

The instructional media office is the center of activity for media presentations on campus.

A high percentage of George Fox graduates go into the field of education. An elementary education major is offered in co-operation with Oregon College of Education, where students spend their senior year. Secondary education majors are available in biology, mathematics, physical education, and music.

Students in education take several classes which involve practical experience, such as writing lesson plans and assisting teachers. In Instructional Media, they learn to use audio-visual aids. Student teaching is the culmination of the educational process for the prospective teacher. Here he confronts students in a real-life classroom situation.

Coach Brown

Coach Miller

Coach Allen

Marjorle Weesner

Nadine Brood

All students are required to take six credit hours of physical education activity classes. They have a wide variety of activities from which to choose, including swimming, bowling, tennis, and archery. Many of these classes are now coeducational.

Physical education majors gain practical knowledge of their field through participation in sports and professional activity classes. They also acquire background in such areas as community health, recreational leadership, and physiology.

DIVISION III LANGUAGE ARTS

Dr. Cecilla Martin, literature

Samuel Sherrill, literature

Bunny James, Carolyn Cadd, and Carolyn Leslie perform In Pigeons.

The language arts division encompasses literature, languages, speech, and drama. Literature survey courses provide insight into our culture. More specialized courses are available to majors.

Drama classes center around acting and play production. Students also read and study dramatic literature.
Speech courses help to develop poise and assurance. The newly-formed forensics team competed in several tournaments, and returned with awards.

Roy Clark, speech

Christine Sargent, drama

Anderson makes a comment in Mrs. Sherrill's comion class.

French, German, and Spanish are the major languages taught at George Fox. Class sessions in these languages include reading, writing, and discussion; they also involve work in the self-instruction lab.

An addition to the language department this year is a course in Swahili, taught by Mrs. Tatuli Mbasi. Mrs. Mbasu came from Kenya to be with her husband, a George Fox student.

Classes are also offered in linguistics and in language history.

Paul Cammack, Spanish

Dieter Engelhardt, German

Donna Marks, Spanish

Inata is a famillar sight in the language lab.

Sherie Sherrili, ilterature

Phyilis Cammack, English

Barry Hubbeli, Journalism

Genette McNichols, Librarian

Spring has sprung, the grass is green, Sam Sherrill and his freshman Comp. class enjoy learning in the great outdoors.

:ESTIVAL OF THE ARTS

he Festival included painting and sculpture.

ramics were dlsplayed in the Heacock Commons garden.

The third annual Festival of the Arts was a cultural gift to the academic community of George Fox College.

The Cap and Gown, Heacock Commons, the Old Sub Lounge, and Shambaugh Library became galleries displaying the works of fifty-five participating artists. Photography, watercolors, oils, sculpture, metal sculpture, ceramics, woodcarving, stitchery, drawings, pastels, and china paintings were some of the media used by the artists.

The other arts were also represented by many outstanding participants. The Festival was structured to appeal to all interests-visual, musical, and language arts. The College is indebted to the women's auxiliary and to all who helped to make the Festival III a rich experience.

Many of the palntings were available for purchase.

DIVISION II FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

The Fine Arts program provides the George Fox student a chance to become involved in the creative process. Music majors have plenty of opportunity to participate in performing groups such as the choir, the band, stage band, or other ensembles which provide practical experience for their future vocations. The Art department, although a non-major, is widely patronized by students from all majors who are seeking escape from the rigors of academics and wish to express themselves either in the more traditional forms of drawing and painting, or in the expanding program of ceramics.

Karen Kugler whlle earning money gains some practical experlence glving plano lessons.

Pep Band added much enthuslasm.

Ruth Gllman, music

Joseph Gllmore, muslc

Dennis Hagen, music

David Howard, music

Peter Snow, art

The oratorio choir and orchestra rehearse one last time the oratorio, "The Creation," by Joseph Haydn.

DIVISION IV NATURAL SCIENCE

The natural science department provides a wide variety of opportunities for learning. Some of the facilities and programs offered to students are quite unique, such as the highly successful method of self-instruction devised by Dr. Donald Chittick. This non-lecture, laboriented instruction allows chemistry students to learn at their own rate, and even to finish the term's work in advance. Among the curriculum expansions in this division is the new earth science sequence which includes study in geology, meteorology, and astronomy. This course was offered for the, first time this year and was met with great enthusiasm.

Another facet of this division is the opportunity for student teaching in mathematics and biology.
The home economics department launched a new program for practical experience. Five girls live in an apartment, and are responsible for the complete operation of their household and they are graded on efficiency and management.

Ed Flelds explores the mlero world of plants.

Dr. Donald Chlttlck, chemistry professor, demonstrates lab techniques.

Dr. Voth, Jim Plke, and Ron Hays watch the birds go by in the ornlthology lab.

Cathy Kruger uses the self-instruction lab to understand the concepts of chemistry.

DIVISION

RELIGION

Looks Ilke Greek to Professor Worden.

Below: Religion Department Bulietin Board.

The department of religion offers a curriculum of courses, with two full time and two part-time professors. Bible literature, a required course for freshmen, helps to provide a broad knowledge of the Bible. At the same time, the professors try to relate the message in the Bible to contemporary life.
They urge the students to work as competent Christians no matter what they do or where they go.

Required for all freshman is the class, Bible Ilterature.

Upper-division classes provide various opportunities for practical experiences. The comparative Religions class takes field trips to churches and other places of worship. Field placements are available in religion or Christian education work. The course in Greek enables students to read and study the original New Testament.

One of the newer programs of the department is a summer session in the Holy lands, available to all G.F. students. Through the summer participating students are able to earn at least twelve hours of credit.
G.F. graduates find areas of service as pastors, missionaries, directors of Christian Education, youth workers, social ministers and camp managers and counselors.

Summer 1970 found Linden Bright, Terry Hughes and Professor Mills in Turkey.

iness major, Linda Heyerly, participated in the field experience program by working at Charles $F$. Berg's.

Buchan, visiting professor in psychology, conducts the guidance and counseling.

HONORS PROGRAMS

The Intensified Studies program emerges into the public consciousness only once a year, when senior I.S. students report their research in chapel presentations. This is the culmination of a three-year program, beginning when the student is elected by the faculty at the end of his freshman year.
The first two years, students meet bi-weekly for discussion of various topics. The high point of these years are the annual trips to such cities as San Francisco and Victoria, B.C. In the second year, the student selects a topic for special study. The senior year is spent compiling a scholarly paper-from which is taken the material for the chapel presentation.

The Intensified Studies program gives the student a chance for additional study in his major field. This in-depth study is often helpful when he graduates and begins to apply some of the concepts which he has developed through study and evaluation.

Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges is a national organization which publishes an annual directory of a select group of students enrolled in four-year institutions and graduate schools. The number representing each college is established by a carefully calculated quota. Each participating school selects its own members.

The students representing George Fox were chosen by vote of the juniors and seniors from a group of candidates presented for their consideration. Scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship, service to the school, and promise of future achievement were the criteria for selection.

This year's members of Who's Who are as follows, top to bottom:
Randy Morse-Student Council Representative, Circle K President, L'Ami staff, May Day court, and Friends Youth Executive Committee.

Bruce Magee-Student Union Building Chairman, Class Treasurer, Class Representative, Resident Assistant, Student Oregon Education Association, Circle K, basketball, cross country, track, band, and oratorio choir.

Cyril Carr-ASGFC President, Collegiate Challenge staff, choir, Madrigals, varsity baseball, Journeymen Quartet, Religion Assistant, Youth Ambassador, and honors.

Bev Knight-ASB Treasurer of Friends Bible College, drama, choir, May Day Court, International Studies Committee, Missions Conference staff, International Club, and honors.

Marv Walker-Circle K, L'Ami staff, choir, Madrigals, New Perspective, Friends Youth President, Resident Assistant, Math Assistant, and Spring Formal Court.

Marilyn Jensen-Kappa Tau President, Psychology Assistant, Biology Assistant, Student Ministerial Association, Resident Assistant, and honors.

Bob Woodruff-GFC Chapter President and State Vice-President of Student Oregon Education Association, Free Methodist Youth District President, and honors.

Andrea Roberts-Co-editor of L'Ami, Scribbler's President, Poet Laureate, Crescent staff, oratorio choir, and honors.

THE CAMPUS SCENE

Woodmar Hall

Shambaugh Library

Old buildings and new come together on the George Fox campus. Woodmar and Minthorn stand firm in tradition, while the increasing number of newer buildings keep pace with current trends. More casual campus activities center in the S.U.B. or Hester Gymnasium while classes meet in Calder Center or Brougher Hall.
Seasonal changes and the excellent work of the maintenance department both add to the rustic charm of George Fox, providing a peaceful setting for campus life.

A new and different place to be on campus this year was the Old Sub Lounge, which was transformed during Christmas vacation into a coffee shoppe by the S.U.B. board. It's new things like this that make us all admit at one time or another that George Fox isn't such a bad place to be after all.

Afternoons are walking downtown to buy soap, Or splurging on homemade candy at Grandma's; Going to work in your blue jeans,
Or practicing hockey or basketball.
Afternoons are long hours in the lab,
Or taking lecture notes in history of civ.

Afternoons are going home and taking a nap,
Or just rapping with your roommate.
They are listening to records-
Yours, and the people next door's.
Afternoons are running errands,
Registering, finding people and things.
Afternoons are playing the guitar,
Flying a kite when the wind is up.
Afternoons are "break-away" times.

HOCKEY WOMEN SMITE OPPONENTS!

Hockey is a game of skill and deception; it requires concentration and determination. It is an exhilarating game which fulfills the love of being out-of-doors, often regardless of the weather.

The season began, as did every game, with the enthusiastic cheer, "Smite them!"

Later the G.F.C. hockey team competed at a tournament at Delta Park in Portland, held for the selection of an all-star team. At this tournament, two G.F. women were selected as part of the all-star team. They were Beth Burbank and Nancy Phillips. Given honorable mention were Eileen Brown and Mafi Faletau.

At the end of the season the team traveled to Tacoma, Washington for the two-day Northwest Section B Field Hockey Tournament. They played in weather of freezing temperatures, and represented our school well.

GF MATMEN

This year's grapplers, though only boasting a 5-7-1 season record, were a much-improved team. Because the team was three men short of a full squad, they began each match by spotting the opposing team fifteen points. In a sport where fifty points is the maximum, this is no small handicap.

The efforts of freshmen Ken Carsley (134 lb.), Greg Slemp (142 lb.), Dave Powell (150 lb.), Ken Royal (177 lb.); sophomores Steve Hoerauf (123 lb.), Carl Duhrkoop (167 lb.); and junior Mark Moore (158 lb.) were directed by Coach Al Roth.

Although not a "winning" season, it was a building period, and the team is looking forward to next year.

UP, UP AND AWAY

May Day, 1971, was clear "out of sight." Weather was fair, and the mood festive. Activities continued into the afternoon, with a double-header in baseball and a relay track meet. In the evening, the cast of The Fantasticks performed their blend of humor, music, and fantasy.

Dr. Le Shana served as Master of Ceremonies at the mid-day coronation on the lawn near Woodmar.

ANYONE FOR TENNIS

This tennis season, George Fox College did not have a tennis team but organized a tennis club that competed with the community. Those who participated were Bob Rowe, Darryl Reid, Debbie Wilson, Charlotte Krebs, Bobbie Zimmerman and Hugo Schoffer. Charlotte Krebs represented George Fox at State.

Spring term found a number of George Fox women turning out for the softball team. This team, with only five returning players, had a very successful season due to the eager new players. Eilene Brown was team captain. Coaches were Miss Brood, and LaVonne Tofte, who also played. The following awards were presented at the Gold Q awards meeting: Ruth Ricarte, "Most Improved Player," Roxie Calvert, "Most Inspirational Player Award," and LaVonne Tofte, "Most Valuable Player."

CROSS COUNTRY

The Bruin harriers, led by freshmen, experienced feast and famine this cross-country season. Feast; in that Curt Ankeny made the freshman list of the U.S. Track and Field Federation for the State of Oregon. And feast, in that the Bruin team acquired the talents of Ken Bell, a very talented frosh runner from Tonasket, Washington. Bell was elected honorary team captain.

Plaguing injuries throughout the season to these men and others on the squad comprised the famine. And you can't win a cross-country meet if you can't run in it.

Besides Ankeny and Bell, the Bruins have returning: Mark Moore, Bob Bletscher, and Randy Winston, who was elected most inspirational by his teammates. Leaving via graduation will be Gary Hughes and Craig Hayes.

Barring injuries and/or natural disasters, the George Fox team should make winning a regular experience next year.

This year's team was coached by Berton Lamb.

Cross country requires stamina and endurance.

SOCCER

The 1971 Bruin soccer team was marked by enthusiasm, spirit, hard work, and inexperience. The squad had a disappointing season, but never gave up their spirit and desire. This year's team was coached by Bob Brown.

On-campus jobs serve two purposes. They help the student financially, and they help the school. The different jobs available include secretarial services, assistance in various departments, operation of the switchboard, and custodial work. Some students perform tasks a little out of the ordinaryfor example, the girl who makes all the jello for SAGA, or the watchman who walks around Edwards Hall at night to make sure everything is in order.

There are about as many men as women working for the school under the work-study program; the rate of pay varies somewhat according to the job, but averages $$ 1.65$ per hour.

The work that students do on campus is just as necessary to "keep the school going" as it is to settle accounts at the bursar's office.

GRADUATION 1971

Graduation of the Class of 1971 took place Sunday, June 6, at 3:00 p.m. in the Newberg High School Auditorium. The commencement exercises began with the Processional by the Concert Band of George Fox College, under the direction of Professor Dennis Hagen. Archie Mathias, president of the Newberg Ministerial Association and pastor of the Free Methodist Church, gave the invocation. Senior class president, Vern Hyde presented the class gift to restore the fountain in front of the Library, and to give the remaining money to Tatuli Mbasu and his wife. Joseph Gilmore preceded the address with a vocal solo. The address was given by Congresswoman Edith Green, United States Representative from Oregon. Following this, Dean of Faculty, Arthur O. Roberts, announced the honors. Andi Bales and Cyril Carr were honored by being named "Man and Woman of the Year." President David LeShana then did the conferring of degrees. Wilbert Eichenberger, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, gave the benediction. The Class of 1971 marched out onto the plaza to receive their well-earned congratulations.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Vic Gregg, Facuity Advisor

Student Council was composed of Director of Organization, Doug Peterson; Treasurer, Lorralne Watson; Secretary, Marie Gunn; Student Body President, Cyril Carr; Vice-President, Stan Morse; Director of Actlvities, Dale Hadley; SUB Board Chairman, Bruce Magee; Director of Publicity, Diane McCaslin. and Page, Randy Morse.

Student government met with the Administration in hopes of achieving better communication.

This year a new form of government structured over two years ago began to function on a new level of awareness and activity. This year the Student Senate became a truly active independent force with power. And along with this new awakening came many problems which are being worked out. The constitution is constantly being reworked by all levels of government, Student Council, Student Senate and Supreme Court. The Student Council has taken on a new role of not policy makers but of executors of policy and advisers to the policy makers. It is hoped that George Fox students will continue to strive toward perfection in their government.

Student Senate met reguiariy to discuss topics of wide variety such as chapels, constitutional amendments and tennis courts.

STUDENT  CHRISTIAN UNION

Dave Swanson

The Student Christian Union is an organization of all interested students on campus. Chaplain Ron Crecilius serves as advisor, and a student committee co-ordinates activities.

Collegiate Challenge, held each Wednesday night, is a highlight of the week. Song.services, musical numbers, sharing times, and student speakers are regular parts of this time of fellowship. Special features include films, outside speakers, and musical groups.

SCU sponsors various programs which provide opportunity for student involvement in social service and evangelism. Students continue to serve in the Albina Teen Center in Portland. This year, they began working with migrant families in Eola Village.
Under another program, Youth Action teams travel to churches, where they spend an entire weekend working with youth. Other deputation groups provide music or a speaker for a single day.

The most innovative of SCU's programs was a trip to Baja, California, where a group of students assisted in the Centro de Anpara orphanage. Their experiences over Christmas vacation were rewarding.

"Jean and Joan" shared gentie harmony and a vibrant faith in Christ.

Mrs. Tatull Mbasu joined her husband durIng Misslons Conference.

Once each term, the Student Christian Union sponsors a week of special Christian Emphasis. In the fall, the featured speaker was Jay Kessler, Vice-President of Youth For Christ International. His messages were timely and relevant; many of his illustrations became catch-words around campus.

The goal of the annual Missions Conference, held in January, was to acquaint students with missionary work-specifically, with the vocational possibilities. The Conference involved interviews, panel discussions, films, and slide presentations. More than twenty missionaries were involved, representing mission boards from all around the world. Bill Harding was the keynote speaker.
Jim Smith, Mid-West Vice-President of Youth For Christ, came to the campus in the spring. In chapel services and discussions, he grappled with such problems as honesty, self-acceptance, and Christian maturity.

Several one acts were presented this year by our drama department. The first was "Pigeons" by Lawrence Osgood. It was directed by Mrs. Chris Sargent and was a production of the advanced acting class.
The directing class presented three one acts for our enjoyment and for their class fulfillment. "Trifles" by Susan Glassl was directed by Carolyn Cadd, "This Property Is Condemned" by Tennessee Williams was directed by Linda Keyser. Finally "The Last Word" by James Broughton was directed by Geoff Proehl. A study in cages was done by Howard Phillips when he directed two one acts-"Blackbird" and "Fixin's".

WITH THE VOICE OF SINGING ...

1970 brought Professor Joe Gilmore as the new a cappella choir director. The choir consisting of 55 members sang a Christmas concert in fall term. During winter term, they worked on tour music and a piece by Watson, "Belchazaars' Feast"; which they performed in April, with three other college choirs and the Portland Junior Symphony. The choir toured in Washington and British Columbia during the first week in May.

Then on spring break they loaded into the bus, ACCOvan, and private cars, for a long trek to Southern California. They stopped at many churches on the way down and performed many concerts around Southern Cal. They also performed at Knott's Berry Farm and at the annual Disneyland banquet.
The newly formed stage band, under the direction of Joe Gilmore, did a fantastic job at the basketball games as well as other engagements at which they performed.

COMPANION PROTRAM

Life was filled with guns and war And everyone got trampled on the floor I wish we'd all been ready
Children died, the days grew cold,
A piece of bread could buy a bag of gold I wish we'd all been ready
There's no time to change your mind
The Son has come and you've been left behind.
Larry Norman
